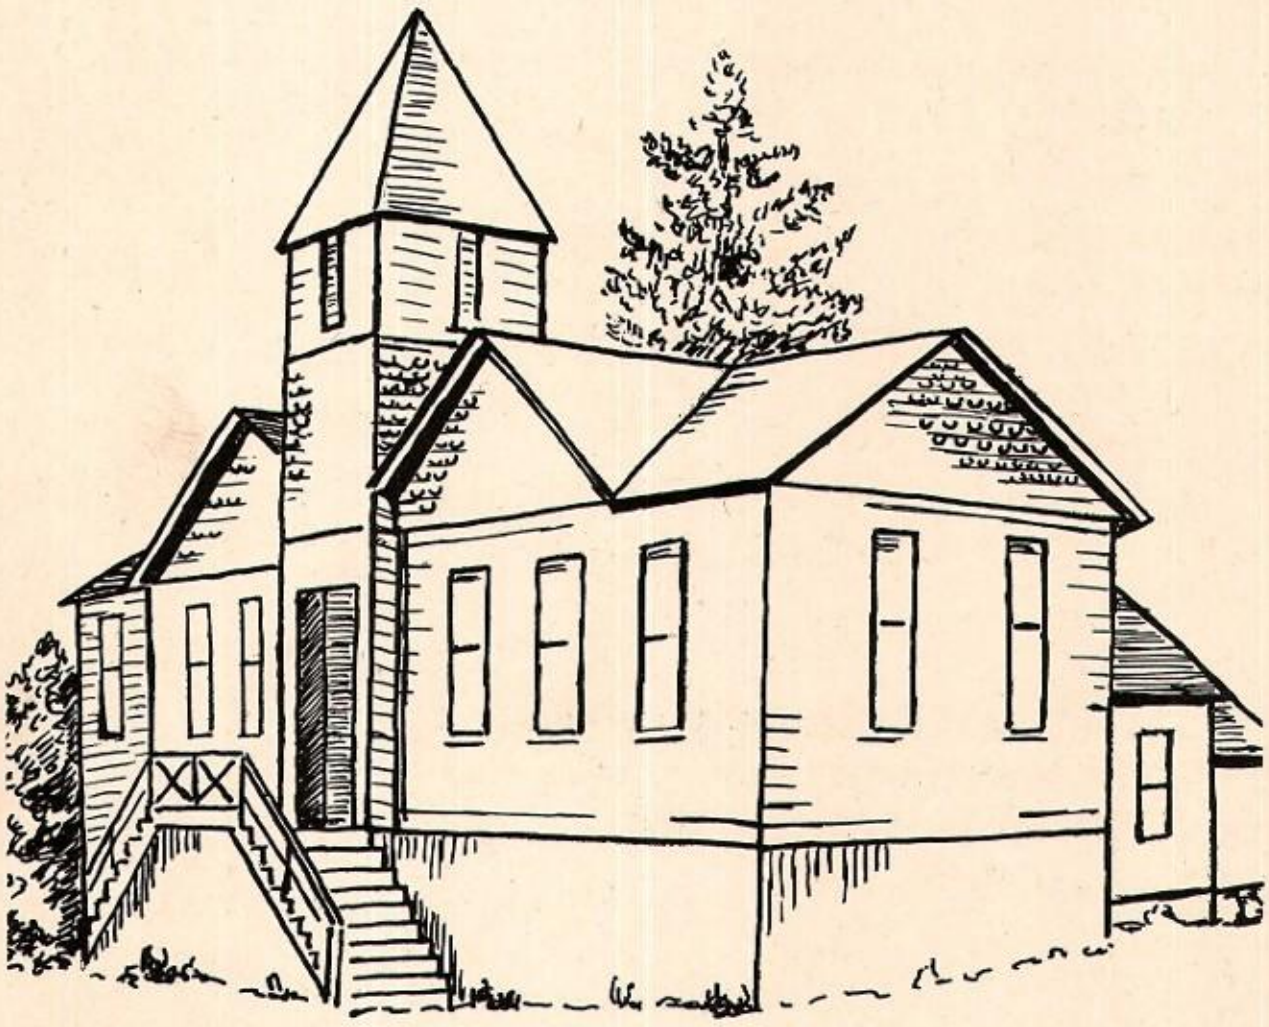
34 Years at Wahkiakum

The History of Wahkiakum High School dates back to the year 1913 when the first student enrolled in the ninth grade of the old grade school building, which stood in front and to the left of our present school. This building, shown in the sketch to the left, was torn down in 1926.

In 1915 the present school building was started but wasn't completed as we know it today. The Superintendent's office was then located in the teachers room on the first floor. There were only two large rooms and one small one upstairs where the high school classes were held. Additional classes were held for a time in the old grade school building. The first student to graduate was Hazel Bailey, Mrs. Gerald Sonners of Chehalis, in 1917. The first class, however, graduated in 1918 and consisted of three students, Odessa Wise (our clerk Mrs. Osborne), Walter Haslem, and Alenya Linquist (who taught many of the present high school students in the first grade).



The year 1925 was quite an important year in the history of Wa-Ki-Hi. This school building was completed, adding many rooms and additional subjects for the students. The addition to the school building led to the later establishing of a room known as the library in 1926. The first annual was published in 1925 and was named the "Wa-Ki-Hi." In the fall of that same year the newly organized football team boasted of winning, one out of the three games played in their first season.

One of the highlights of our school's history was the building of the $10,000 gym and the improving and regrading of the athletic field through the help of the townspeople. The old gym known as the "play-shed" was later made into two modern rooms known as the shop and music room. The annual "Wa-Ki-Hi" came out for the last time in 1931.

The whole building was remodeled in 1936 and many other improvements were made around the school and grounds.

The first annual since 1931 came out in 1938 and the name was changed to "Lamele" which is the Chinook jargon used by the Indians meaning "the mule."

The war brought many changes in Wa-Ki-Hi. The annual suspended publication in 1943 until after war-time shortages and limitations were eased and came out again in 1946.

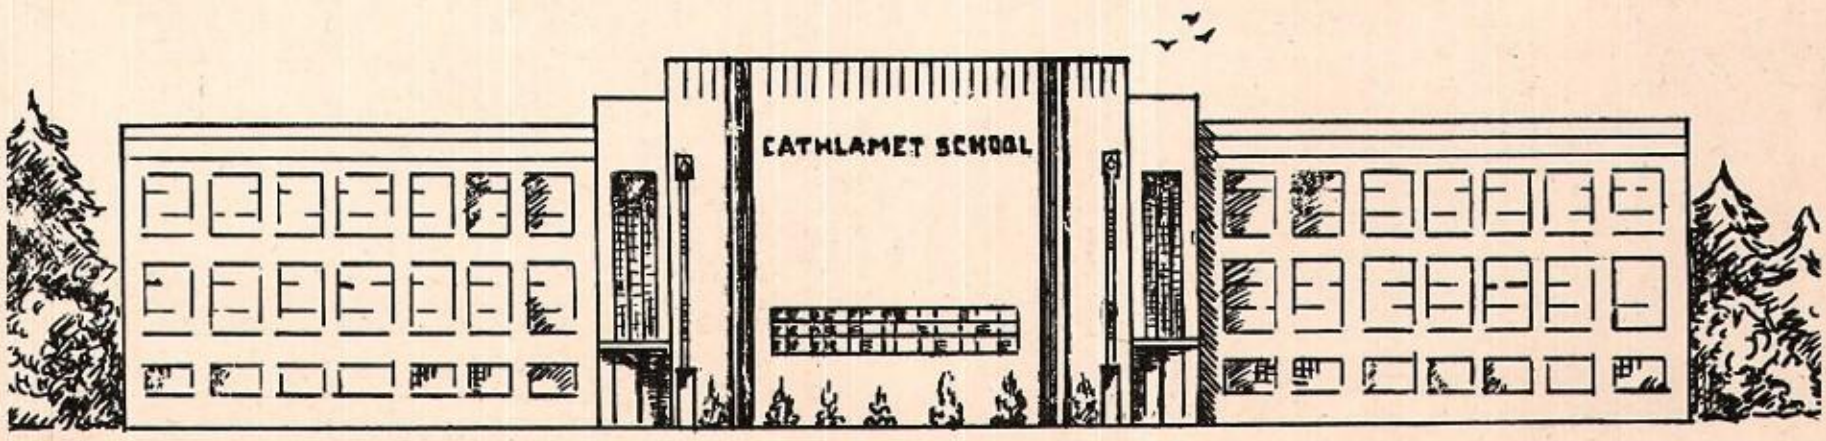
The old fence that ran around the athletic field was torn down in 1946 as everyone agreed that it was an eyesore. This same year also, Mrs. Mary Ann Risk donated $1,000 for a time clock for the proposed new football field.

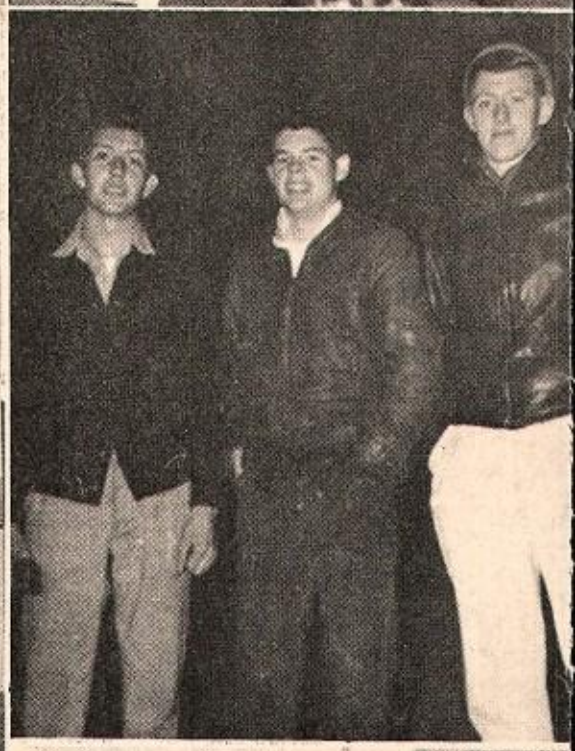
The future, too, holds much in store for Wa-Ki-Hi.

Taking a peek into the future we can vision a new two-story high school building standing where the old athletic field used to be. This dream is closer to reality than you might think! We can almost hear the students as they take their places in the various rooms—a room equipped for every class and activity on the schedule. We would walk down wide modern halls lined on either side with individual lockers. On one side of the hall we would see two doors inviting us to enter the large auditorium where we could find a stage equipped for every dramatic performance imaginable.

In back of the new school we would find the new athletic field brightly illuminated at night by the new field lights. On either side of the field would be covered bleachers facing the smooth green turf. At the end of the field would stand the new time clock, donated in the memory of a Wa-Ki-Hi alumnus.

Yes, the dream of a new building will soon come true but the school spirit of former students will still be there. They, too, dreamed of a new building, but they also learned to love their Alma Mater—Wa-Ki-Hi.





FACULTY

Students of Wahkiakum High School: Education is a dual responsibility between you and your school. You have the right to expect that your high school should mean much to you and that it should be an instrument by which you climb to a fuller and richer place in life.

Your high school and its faculty have the right to expect and to hope that you saw opportunities and took advantage of their offerings and teachings.

If you did this, you will be able to look back in years to come on your days at Wahkiakum High School with a great deal of satisfaction and pride.

—Julius A. Wendt,
Superintendent

Congratulations Seniors! Twelve arduous years of school are successfully behind you and you stand on the brink of the future. What that future may hold I can't predict—whether future school or training, marriage or work. Only one thing can be predicted with reasonable certainty, that to each and every one will come citizenship.

Training toward active and constructive citizenship has been an important goal of education for many generations. The members of each graduating class of the past have faced the responsibility even as you do today, but to you comes a new challenge of citizenship, world citizenship. Today our world, like you, stands at the crossroads. Behind it lies one stage in its development when the interests, power and sovereignty of individual nations were paramount. Whether the future will bring a successful venture into world unity will depend to a very large extent on the tolerance, wisdom and cooperation you and millions like you bring to this responsibility.

—Elizabeth Strand,
Principal.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Four long and eventful years ago, enthusiastic Freshmen climbed the winding stair into the hall of Wahkiakum High School.

At our first class meeting, under the advice of Mr. Moore, class officers were chosen. "The Higher the Climb, the Better the View" was selected as our class motto, red and white were chosen as our colors, and the class flower, the gladiola. We broke a long time record with our Frosh Basket Social, netting $72.35 on the basket auction. The Senior Farewell was our last Freshman event. The decorations of spring flowers followed a Springtime theme, and dancing was enjoyed by all to the music of Harry Hendrickson.

The Sophomore party was our first event the next year, and proved a huge success. Several dances were given throughout the year, the most successful being a Valentine Dance held in the projection room after a Naselle basketball game.

At last we were upperclassmen, and plans were immediately under way for the Junior play, "Come Rain or Shine," under the direction of Miss Cook, our class adviser. This production was given November 16, 1945, and was well attended. Our Junior year was climaxed with a Junior Prom which demanded months of planning and preparation, but its success well rewarded us for our efforts. It was given in the Norse Hall, April 13, and the theme was Dreamland. Mary Jean Nilsen was crowned queen of the prom, and music was provided by Gust Anderson and his orchestra. We ended a prosperous Junior year by decorating for Baccalaureate and Commencement.

"Three down and one to go" was the encouraging slogan that carried us thorugh our Senior year. On September 20, the Freshman Welcome Dance was given, with very appropriate green decorations. After the Freshmen were well initiated, our Senior pictures were taken by Bruno Studios of Portland. As a final tribute to our High School career, the last social event was given, the Program Dance. Plans were then made for Class Day, which was held May 16, 1947, and Baccalaureate took place in the Congregational Church, Sunday, May 18, 1947. On the night of May 23, we triumphantly marched in to the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" and took our places to receive our long awaited diplomas.

Prophecy

Dear Vivian,

It has been some time since you've heard from me, but my travels with my sport-loving husband (Did you know that I finally married the star of the U.C.L.A. football team?) have led me all over the country.

A strange thing happened not long ago when I was on my way to Chicago from Los Angeles for the "Big Nine" football conference. I saw most of our old classmates all aboard one train. I was on my way to the dining car when whom should I bump in to but Jean Lockwood on her way to New York where she is the dietitian at the Waldorf-Astoria. We were stopped by Leonard Maki, who mentioned that he and some of the old gang were on their way to the Great Lakes for a short vacation. He invited us to join them in the club car and meet Bob Hendrickson, who is now married and living on the Island—never could get him off the old homestead; Howard Anderson, just a happy bachelor who now owns a string of theaters along the West Coast; Orville Tomasli, who is the County Agent of Wahkiahum County; Lee Gisselberg, married and very happy, who is now the head of the Agriculture Department at W.S.C. Forget to tell you that Leonard is a professor at Stanford. At the time, Jean and I wondered if they weren't just taking a rest from their wives.

From the boys, I learned that Bob Lee is a successful business man in the East. We wouldn't have known it because he was riding the rails—it seems he lost a bet on a big game—from Los Angeles to Chciago. Shirley Coates, after graduation from college, became a successful stenographer until she married her boss five days after he employed her. You know what Mary Ann always said about becoming a hermit, well that's what she is now; she has a little place in southern California and does just what she want to all day. Phyllis Foster graduated from the U. of W. and is living in Seattle. She is to be married in the spring.

If you have any aches or pains just go to Cleveland, where Della Rae Oakes is the head nurse in a big hospital. Red is on his way back there after a championship bout on the East Coast. I wonder if she will say yes this time? Dick Johnson has gone back to his native California. He isn't married yet but there are several beauties on his trail, so they tell. Remember that escapade at Kalama? Well, Ozzie and Jake now own their own plumbing supply company. Bob Olsen is still in the Northwest doctoring sick animals; yes, he did become a veterinarian. Being so close to Jean all his years at college, they are now planning a wedding in the spring. Speaking of professionals in our class, Mike has now taken over Dr. Fritz' practice, and his daughter as well. They are planning a trip East as soon as Mike has made an important discovery in the curing of cancer. Speaking of doctors, Betty Ullfers is now a receptionist in a doctor's office in Seattle.

Remember how Bert was always working on her hope chest? Well, she's married and living in the Middle West. Another of the girls was Mae Haugen. She won a scholarship, went two years and then got married. She is the happy mother of twins. At a small town I got off and wandered into a coffee shop, and who should I see but Fred Wood; he is now the Fire Chief in that town. He married that girl from Vancouver and they are planning to build a new house. The carpenter is none other than Joe Gorman. "Baldy" (Lyle Ahrens) has become a barber, and he still hasn't made up his mind about women.

How are you and Pete coming along on that new house you were building the last time you wrote? I hope you have lots of success in the grocery business you are starting.

—Pat.

Thirty-five frightened but determined Freshmen ascended the stairs of Wa-Ki-Hi on the morning of August 28, 1944. A new student increased the total to thirty-six. The Frosh Basket Social was more successful financially than any previous social. Later in the year the Frosh sponsored a very successful Senior Farewell.

Only twenty-five students returned in the Sophomore year with five joining later. This class took on the responsibility of sponsoring dancing at noons, and put on a very successful Valentine dance in the projection room.

This new year was a big year for the new upper classmen. The Juniors presented the play, "The Doctor Has A Daughter," which was very well attended. As the year progressed, the class began planning their prom which was held on April 18, 1947.

In the fall of '45 a group of shy Freshmen enrolled as students of Wa-Ki-Hi. To start the year out, the Senior gave the Frosh their annual Frosh Welcome Dance. On that same day they were initiated. Their costumes ranged anywhere from long underwear to bathing suits. Their Frosh Basket Social was held on November 30. Their first dance was given on March 8th, using St. Patrick's Day as the motif. The Senior Farewell Dance was given May 3rd, which was a formal occasion.

Now being Sophomores of the year of '46, they came up the steps with more confidence, and felt that they belonged. They started the year off with a very successful Sophomore party given on October 11th and many other dances were given throughout the year.

On September 3, 1946, the Freshmen were seated very meekly in their seats in the Freshmen room. A few days later they were doomed to the fate of being initiated into Wa-Ki-Hi. That day will live as a burning memory.

The annual Frosh basket social was given on December 6, 1946. They have made their first year a very successful one by topping it off with a very impressive Senior Farewell Dance. We will be glad to see them as leaders of this school in future days.

Band and Choir

From an unheralded beginning with five persons reporting, the Band made steady progress. Even with the difficulty in getting instruments, enough were purchased so that a Band of 30 pieces developed. The tone was of good quality and the members, many of whom had never played before, became interested in doing a grand job. So much so that two weeks before Christmas the Band was given a heavy program to prepare. Not only did the members respond well, but such things as "White Christmas" were added to the program, making it what was said to have been the most outstanding program given by the school for a long time. During the spring, a large school-wide concert was planned, which was to include the Band, the Choir and the grades. Among the numbers to be done were "Spring Festival Overture" by Johnson, also Clair Johnson's new arrangement of the "Children's Prayer" from Hansel and Gretl, "Built On a Rock," by Elmer Uggen, for Band and Choir, several marches and other material.

During the year 1946-47, the Cathlamet High School Choir took a place in the music of the community in a very definite way. The progress was very slow during the first months, but the coming of Christmas gave evidence that the Choir was going to be outstanding before the end of the year. These people began to take an active interest in reading new music at sight early in the year. The material used included Dr. Christiansen's choir numbers: "Built On a Rock," by Uggen; "Come To the Fair," by Easthope-Martin, and of course good renditions of three- and four-part Christmas carols. The Choir was to take a leading part in the spring music festival.

The Future Farmers of America is a national organization composed of boys studying vocational agriculture in high schools throughout the United States. The purposes of the organization are to develop leadership, cooperation, citizenship, and to strengthen the confidence of boys in themselves and their work.

The Cathlamet chapter has enjoyed one of its most successful and eventful years. During the year we took part in nine judging contests with other schools and participated in numerous recreational activities and productive projects.

For the first time in the history of our chapter, we were represented at the national F.F.A. convention at Kansas City, Missouri. The local president, Allen Wood, and Donald Jaspers, made up part of the Washington State delegation to the convention.

In May, a Mothers Tea was given for the mothers of the high school students, as is the custom. A style show was presented by the girls who had made clothes in Home Economics classes this year. The latest fashions and suitable dress for the high school girl were shown.

All students with a B average are eligible to join or become a member of Torch Honor Society. During the past year the Torch Honor has taken in many new members. It has one of the largest memberships of any of the Clubs.

During the year they had a full schedule of events and activities. First, they started off with a banquet for the new members, which was a big success. They also sold ice cream bars to raise money for their treasury. Each year the members of Torch Honor take an educational trip, this year they went to Oregon State College. We hope that this society will keep its membership large and its activities many.

The Girls' Athletic Association is made up of girls who have been outstanding in sports and activities.

To enter this club, a girl must have 100 points which are determined by the number of clubs and activities she has taken part in.

This year the G.A.A. received pins, which were very nice. They also have a letter which the girls look forward to earning. To earn this letter, 300 points must be made by each girl. One can earn these points by taking part in the drill team, tumbling and other activities.

Every girl should feel it an honor to belong to this up and coming association.
